

WAVE OF SAVING SWEEPING STATES

N. Y. Banker on a Tour of Financial Centers Sees Peace Ahead

CRUDE OIL NOT DEAD

Three Dollar Stuff Will Return in Short Time, B. T. Moran Says; Visits Here

American people, chastened by lessons taught during the postwar wave of spending are saving more money on less than they ever have before and therein lies the financial salvation of the country, in the opinion of B. T. Moran, vice president of the Bankers' Development Corporation of New York city, who is in Tulsa this week for banking conferences.

Comeback a Success.
Mr. Moran is just completing an inspection tour of the country and his banks covering 50,000 miles of territory and he finds that the business of the country is emerging safely from the deflation period following the war, that the manufacturers of the east are slowly, perhaps, but surely operating on a lower commodity basis and that the banks, having eliminated the greater part of their frozen loans, are liquid and in better shape than ever to meet the needs of the people for the commodity with which they deal.

Moran's conviction that this coming year is to be a booming one in as far as business is concerned is based upon his knowledge of the fact that everywhere, from New England to the Pacific coast, from the northern boundaries to the Gulf, people are learning the habit of thrift; they are buying, true, but they are eliminating in their buying the superabundance of luxuries that characterized it recently and are putting money into the bank. Banks everywhere, Mr. Moran says, tell him that people who never did such a thing in their lives before are starting savings accounts—and this on less money in the process of scaling down than that out of which they were unable, apparently, to save at all before.

Big Business in Sight.
This new national habit of thrift, combined with the action of the federal reserve board enabling the banks to establish themselves more firmly upon a basis of normal rate of supply and demand, means business on a larger scale than ever before, Mr. Moran believes. Another hopeful sign brought to his attention during his tour is the fact that good banks are consolidating now to a much greater extent than before.

The railroads, being the arteries of commerce of the country, are so closely interwoven with its welfare that their prosperity or their discouragement is bound to be the common property of the common depression of all, Mr. Moran said, but he believes that readjustment entailing the reduction of operating expenses and scaling down in proportion to the present cost of living, will be accomplished in a comparatively short time and with little trouble.

Sees Crude Coming Back.
Because the cut in crude oil that brought to bear upon Oklahoma business and finance the same temporary depression that has been felt for some months in the manufacturing and farming districts of the middle west and east came late, Oklahoma will recover comparatively sooner, Mr. Moran believes, and he is looking for a full year within the next two or three months.

The fact that Europe is debtor to the United States, he said, including government, municipal and private loans, to the extent of some $20,000,000,000 and that this country holds the balance of trade serves to dissipate the bugbear of continued hard times. The increased purchasing power of the American dollar, the gradual recovery of foreign exchanges and the strength of the general banking position in this country justifies, in Moran's opinion, an attitude of cheerfulness toward the general business outlook this year.

Civic League Meeting Off.
The Civic League monthly meeting set for yesterday afternoon in the public library, was not held owing to the fact that there was not a quorum present. The small number of women present held an informal discussion of the smoke nuisance, the discomfort of which, women stated, is just beginning to be felt in Tulsa.

WOMAN PIONEER DIES IN TULSA

Mrs. Emma Miller Organized First W.C.T.U. in Early Days

Mrs. Emma Miller of Guthrie, pioneer of Oklahoma and organizer of the first W. C. T. U. in the territorial days, died suddenly yesterday afternoon in the home of Mrs. L. L. McCormick, 1217 South Battlemore, a lifelong friend with whom she was visiting for a few days in Tulsa. Mrs. Miller had not been well for several months, she was worn out after a long life of arduous service and her death, while it came as a shock, was not altogether unexpected.

Funeral services will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon from the home of Mrs. McCormick. The body will be taken to Guthrie for interment. Rev. L. A. Brannon will officiate at the service.

Mrs. Miller was a close friend of Mrs. Frances Willard, a crusader in Ohio; she was among those who 50 years ago were instrumental in organizing the union, known the world over by its white ribbon. With her husband and son, she came to Oklahoma in pioneer days in a prairie schooner, and like her neighbors in the new country, lived for some months in that schooner. With others who had come to the territory from the east, she was interested in the organization of a local W. C. T. U. and planned for an organization looked alike, so to distinguish her.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out. They weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative business clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead, your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage; and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.—Advt.

meeting. All private schools, including the school in which the meeting was to be held on a specified day and date, Mrs. Miller marked it with a big red blanket hung over one side. From that time henceforth she continued her activities in that direction; she served for a long time as president of the Logan County W. C. T. U. and for many years, up to the time of her death, she was state organizer.

Her husband and son are both dead and as far as is known she leaves no family.

Army Conducts Revival.
In keeping with the call campaign which is being observed by the Salvation army the world over, Tulsa's branch is holding special revival meetings which commenced yesterday at the service.

WHAT CAUSES GAS ON THE STOMACH?
It is caused by fermenting, sour waste matter in the intestine. This old, foul matter should be thoroughly cleaned out with simple back-thorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler's. This acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, removing old accumulated matter you never thought was in your system. Adler's also relieves ANY CASE, gas on the stomach. EXCELLENT for sour stomach and chronic constipation. Guards against appendicitis. Roy R. Getman, 113 S. Main.—Advt.
